Annex 2: Collation of the Systematisches Conchylien-Cabinet (1837-1920)

An important work in systematic malacology is the second edition of “Martini-Chemnitz,” formally known as the Systematisches Conchylien-Cabinet (1837-1920). This edition, initiated by Heinrich Karl Küster, to replace the largely non-binomial first edition, was published over nearly a century but was never completed. This work has proven particularly problematic in determining the dates of publication, largely because while the eleven (11) volumes and their parts were nominally arranged in systematic order, many of the family treatments were not published in their entirety at one time, but were instead issued over years, if not decades. Sometimes, an early section on one family was canceled and replaced, decades later, with new text by a different author. Often, there were significant time gaps between different parts of a single family, sometimes accompanied by a change in authorship. These problems affect primarily the treatments of some of the marine mollusks; the dating of the later volumes is usually more straightforward.

The collation herein is based on a synthesis of all the previously published collations, as well as review of the two copies in the Museum of Comparative Zoology (MCZ), Harvard University, and a copy in a private library.

Welter-Schultes (1999: 158) explained that the entire work was issued over an 83-year period in 584 Lieferungen. Each Lieferung contained a yellow cover (wrapper; Umschlag), a variable number of text pages, and usually 6 coloured plates. The text pages were divided into Bogen, consisting of 8 pages each. In the text, the Bogen numbers are printed at the bottom of the first and third page of each. The wrapper listed the Lieferung number, the publication year (which seems to be correct in all 584 cases), the plates (including species lists), Bogen numbers of the text pages, and eventually further comments or explanations that can be very helpful for bibliographical investigations, for example when plates or text pages were “cancelled” and “replaced.” References on issued text pages are frequently absent on the wrappers, but the plates are usually listed correctly.

Woodward (1910: 1252-1253), in the print edition of the British Museum (Natural History) library catalog, gave a partial collation of this work for the volumes and parts issued through 1907. However, many sections were issued over two or more years, and Woodward did not give a breakdown of the pages and plates for each year.

The first author to provide a partial collation of this work that gave information on the authorship and dates of the listed parts was the Dutch paleontologist Oostingh (1925). In an overlooked paper in an obscure journal published by an agricultural school, he collated most of the sections on the tropical marine mollusks. It appears that the only subsequent author to have made extensive use of Oostingh’s detailed collation was the Indian zoologist Prashad (1932), whose monograph of the Siboga Expedition bivalves set forth the collations of the marine bivalves (including several families not covered by Oostingh), but did not list the marine gastropods. Beu (2005, Scripta Geologica, 130: 137) recently cited Oostingh for the collation of the section on Ranella and Triton (Tonnoidea).

Shortly thereafter, Sherborn, evidently unaware of Oostingh (1925) and Prashad (1932), published the manuscript notes of Smith & England (1937), in order to present a collation of the entire second edition. However, their collation was based upon the copy in the British Museum (Natural History), which was “bound up in families or genera” (Smith & England, 1937: 89). This collation did not indicate the numbering of the 11 volumes (“Band”) or the parts (“Abtheilung”) within each volume, nor did it provide the authorship of any of the taxonomic treatments. This collation did indicate each “part” (i.e., Lieferung), of which 584 were issued.

Johnson (1968), in the same journal, provided a revised collation based on the copies in the Museum of Comparative Zoology (MCZ) and a private library. This collation was rearranged into volumes and parts, and indicated the authorship for each part, but did not consistently indicate which pages and plates were published in each year, or provide the Lieferung(en) for each volume and part.

Hence, until 1999, authors unaware of Oostingh (1925) and Prashad (1932) would have needed to consult both Smith & England (1937) and Johnson (1968), in order to collate the entire work or individual taxonomic sections.

In 1999, Welter-Schultes published an updated collation in the same journal that published the Smith & England (1937) and Johnson (1968) papers. The Welter-Schultes (1999) collation was based on the copy in the Staats- und Universitäts-Bibliothek Göttingen (Germany), which had the wrappers for many of the Lieferungen. The result was a collation that essentially combined the information in the collations of Smith & England (1937) and Johnson (1968) (the latter paper was overlooked by Welter-Schultes), with some corrections to information in Smith & England (1937), and additional annotations.

In addition, Hertlein (1936) and Marshall (2002) provided additional detail on three bivalve sections. As Marshall (2002) noted, species names can be first made available from the wrappers of the individual Lieferungen, since the wrappers sometimes listed the names of the species illustrated on the plates but not yet named in the text. The other wrappers have not yet been thoroughly examined to search for possible first occurrence of new species names.

Here, we synthesize these collations. In particular, we have indicated where the changes in authorship occurred for those families treated by more than one author, based on information from the copies in the Museum of Comparative Zoology, Harvard University, and in a private library.

In addition to Küster, the following are the full names of authors of the contained monographs, for whom only last names are used below:

Anonymous [abbreviated below as “Anon.”]

Brot, Auguste Louis (1821-1896)

Clessin, Stefan (1833-1911)

Dohrn, Wolfgang Ludwig Heinrich (1838-1913)

Dunker, Wilhelm Bernard Rudolph Hadrian (1809-1885)

Haas, Fritz (1886-1969)

Kobelt, Wilhelm (sometimes listed on the title page as “Kobelt-Schwanheim”) (1840-1916)

Koch, Friedrich Carl Ludwig (1799-1852)

Löbbecke, Carl Heinrich Wilhem Theodore (1821-1901)

Martens, Karl Eduard von (1831-1904)

Möllendorff, Otto Franz von (1848-1903)

Pfeiffer, Louis Carl Georg (1805-1877)

Philippi, Rudolph Amandus (1808-1904)

Römer, Eduard (1819-1874)

Schmalz, Carl (1858-19?)

Thiele, Karl Hermann Johannes (1860-1935)

Wagner, Antoni Józef (1860-1928)

Weinkauff, Heinrich Conrad (1817-1886)

Several of the early (1840s-1850s) sections were nominally authored by “Anonymous” in that no author was indicated on the title page. However, the fact that Küster was credited with authoring all or nearly all of the other sections published in those two decades allows the inference that Küster should also be credited with the supposedly “Anonymous” sections, pursuant to ICZN Recommendation 51D. We note that Oostingh (1925), Prashad (1932), and Johnson (1968) also credited many of those sections to Küster.

All the previously published collations – except for Welter-Schultes (1999) – correctly indicated the range of dates in the bibliographic citation for those sections that were published over a period of two or more years, as is customary for collations. Welter-Schultes (1999) gave only the “title page date” in the bibliographic citation, and listed the actual range of dates in the collation following the citation. However, the title page of some volumes would only indicate the final year in which that section was completed (or sometimes even an earlier year), not the range of dates. Moreover, some parts had two title pages, each with a different “title page date.” To avoid any confusion, we have instead indicated the “title page date” in the remarks, and not in the bibliographic citation.

The work is abbreviated below as SCC.
Lieferung is abbreviated as Lief.

Unless otherwise noted, comments following each section are taken from Welter-Schultes (1999), with some paraphrasing or revision.

Smith & England (1937: 90) noted that “Plates I, II & III published in part 1, 1837. The text accompanying them is quite different from that in the present monograph.” Welter-Schultes (1999: 159) noted that the Lieferungen numbers were not given in Smith & England (1937), and their reference to pages 1-16 was probably a printing error, correct is pages 1-15. Plates 3a and 4 were issued in Lieferung 185, and plates 3b and 3c in Lieferung 186, according to the wrappers (Johnson, 1968: 364). Text is not mentioned on the wrappers.

Johnson (1968: 364) stated that the text was published in Lieferung 189; Welter-Schultes (1999: 159), who did not cite Johnson, thought that the text may have been published in Lieferung 186.

1(2) Pteropoda. Only plate 3 was published, with no text, and no date.

Smith & England (1937: 97) and Johnson (1968: 364) stated that “no information” was available about this plate. Welter-Schultes (1999: 195) suggested that plate 3 “could have been issued between 1900 and 1920.”

1(3) Heteropoda. Only plate 1 was issued, as part of Lieferung 142 (1855).

Sources: Woodward (1910: 1252) (incorrectly gave both 1855 and 1879 as the dates); Smith & England (1937: 97); Johnson (1968: 364); Welter-Schultes (1999: 194).

List in Smith & England (1937: 96) incomplete and incorrect, as it only lists plates 1 and 2 as being both issued in 1855 (Lieferung 148); Woodward (1910: 1252) similarly said that both plates “were issued in 1855.” The list presented here conforms with the wrappers in the Göttingen copy.

Welter-Schultes (1999: 168) noted that Smith & England (1937: 93) did not mention plate A and pages I-IV, and no date was given for Lieferungen 82 and 87 (issued in 1849). Comparing the design of the plates, plate A must have been issued between 1846 and 1849. Plate A is quoted on page 216. Pages I-IV could be issued in Lieferung 95, contains systematic index (page 215 is quoted).

Welter-Schultes (1999: 175) noted that all texts and plates of 2(6), 2(7), and 2(8) seemed to be issued in 1853 – 2(6) and 2(8) in Lieferung 123(?) and 2(7) in Lieferung 129(?).

Note: plates 2-4 were probably not prepared by Martens. Lieferung 184 contains text and/or plates of at least three other authors – Clessin [1(6)], Küster [1(17)(b) and 1(25)(1)], and Pfeiffer [1(13)(1)] – so it cannot readily be determined who authored plates 2-4 of Neritina.

Welter-Schultes (1999: 175-176) noted that: Plate 1 was not mentioned in Smith & England (1937). The species and figure numbers of this plate are cited correctly in text pages of pages 1-64, which leads to the conclusion that this must have been issued in or before 1875. In the same text parts (pages 1-64), references to other plates that appeared after plate 9 are incorrect in most cases. On wrappers 184, 266, 277, and 285, plate 1 is not mentioned. On wrapper 243 only plates 5-9 are mentioned, but no other plate. Usually 6 plates were issued in one Lieferung, so plate 1 was most probably issued in Lieferung 243.

Date on title page is 1879.

Sources: Woodward (1910: 1252) (as “1881”); Oostingh (1925: 340, but no information other than “1881”); Smith & England (1937: 91, listed as “1881” and solely in Lieferungen 311); Johnson (1968: 365, as “1881”); Welter-Schultes (1999: 176, with 1882 information based on the wrappers). Date on title page is 1881.

Kabat & Boss (1997), Karl Eduard von Martens (1831-1904): his life and work, pages 67 and 69, stated that pages 1-40 and plates 1-6 appeared in Lieferungen 311 (1881), and pages 41-56 and plates 7-8 appeared in Lieferungen 315 (1882), based on the entries in the Zoological Record, which Martens also authored in that time period.

Welter-Schultes (1999: 176) noted that the reference in Smith & England (1937: 94) to Lieferung "366" for pp. 65-104 was in error; the correct citation is "365" according to the wrapper.

Note: Martens was probably not the author of plates 1-3, which are more likely the work of Küster, since the rest of Lieferungen 149 was issued as part of Küster's treatment of Litorina, in SCC 2(9).

Welter-Schultes (1999: 176) noted that pages 1-12 (= Bogen 1-2) were issued in Lieferung 189 according to its wrapper. Smith & England (1937: 90) stated that pages 9-12 were issued in Lieferung 187, but there is no note on the wrapper, so their statement is probably not correct. In any event, both Lieferung 187 and Lieferung 189 were issued in the same year (1868).

Oostingh (1925: 334) listed plates 20 and 22 as being issued in 1858; however, those plates were not mentioned by either Smith & England (1937: 90) and Welter-Schultes (1999: 177). These plates are present in the MCZ sets, but without indication of the specific Lieferungen; presumably they could have been issued within Lieferungen 162 to 165?

Welter-Schultes (1999: 177) noted that there was no reference to the two different plates 17 in Smith & England (1937). Plate 17[a] contains partly the same shells of plate 17, so probably the older plate was “cancelled” and “replaced” by a new one in 1860. “Küster ad nat. fec.” is quoted on plate 17, but no such note on plate 17[a].

Welter-Schultes (1999: 178) noted that the original plates 71-72 not mentioned in Smith & England (1937), plates 71[a] and 72[a] were listed by Smith & England as plates "71-72." Design of the plates: plates 71[a], 72[a]: "III.1.c." and "Kobelt del." printed in slight italics (similar to plates 73-76), plate 71: "III.1." and "Sporer sc.," plate 72: "III.1.c." and nothing further. In the Göttingen copy, plate 71 is bound in volume 3(1b), plate 72 in 3(1c). Printed note on wrapper 301: "Die unter dieser Signatur [= 3(1c) or 3(1)] bereits gegebenen Tafeln 71. 72. bitten zu cassiren." [please destroy plates 71 and 72, which were delivered under this signature]. The original Plate 72 was issued in Lieferung 189 according to its wrapper. Publication date of the original plate 71 remains unknown, but probably between 1857 and 1868.

Note: according to the footnote on page 222 (1876), Küster's manuscript ended on that page, and Kobelt authored the remaining text.

Welter-Schultes (1999: 179) noted that pages 100-109 were not issued. Plate B (not mentioned by Oostingh, 1925: 336 or Smith & England, 1937: 89), has a different layout and design, which suggests that it was not issued with the other plates in 3(2). Plate 4b (also not mentioned by Oostingh or Smith & England) has a design that is similar to plate 13, but is very different from plates 1-19, which suggests that it could have been issued in 1855, and not in 1844 or earlier. Although the text quotes plate 4b on page 10, and plate B on page 327, the publishing history of other volumes shows that the text can refer to plates that were not yet issued.

Welter-Schultes (1999: 179) provided additional discussion as to the potential dating of several other plates (38, 40, and 41; not listed in Oostingh, 1925), which suggests that the information in Smith & England (1937) is incorrect.

Welter-Schultes (1999: 179-180) noted that plate 14 was issued in Lieferung 56 according to its wrapper and was “cancelled” in Lieferung 221 according to the note printed on the wrapper: “Unsere Abonnenten werden (...) gebeten, die schon ausgegebene Tafel 14 zu cassiren” [our subscribers are asked to destroy the already issued plate 14]. In the Göttingen copy, plates 41 and 42 are bound at the end of this volume (not mentioned in prior collations); those plates could have been issued in 1844 according to their design, which is similar to that of plate 11.

Pages III-IV (contain systematic index for this publication) and plate 2[a] not mentioned in Oostingh (1925: 335) or Smith & England (1937: 90).

Welter-Schultes (1999: 180) noted that Plate 2 was probably replaced by 2[a] shortly after plate 2 had been issued, both plates contain the same shells, that on plate 2[a] is slightly more accurately painted (plate 2: “IV. 2,” plate 2[a]: “IV.1. 2,” design of plate 2[a] suggests that it might have been issued in 1845). Plates “7, 11, 16” probably a printing error in Smith & England (1937), correct should be “7-11, 16” as may be concluded from the design of these plates.

Welter-Schultes (1999: 186) noted that pages 1-8 were not mentioned in Smith & England (1937), and contain general statements about bivalves, molluscs, and brachiopods. Küster (1843, volume 0(2)) claimed that Bogen 1-3 were already issued before Lieferung 43, so pages 1-8 (= Bogen 1) could have been issued before Lieferung 41, probably in Lieferung 40. 7(1) contains no title page with information about the publication year. No register. Contents: Brachiopoda: Lingulacea: Lingula; Terebratulacea: Terebratula, Thecidium, Crania; Conchifera: Ostracea: Anomia, Aenigma, Placuna, Ostrea.

Oostingh (1925: 358) and Johnson (1968: 366) attributed the authorship of this section to H. C. Küster, with pages 61-64 and plate 7 (genus Aenigma) authored by “Bergrath” Koch (= F. C. L. Koch?). There exists a single sheet consisting of two unpaginated pages by Koch, with a description of Aenigma n.g., referring to plate 7, obviously issued after October 1846 in Lieferung 56 (1845); in some sets, these two pages are bound after page 40 of this volume.

Marshall (2002), based on information on the wrapper for part 45, confirmed that part 45 was issued in 1844, not 1843, and that plate 13 was issued with part 46, not part 45.

Welter-Schultes (1999: 187) noted that: Bogen 1 is listed on wrapper 21, Bogen 2 (pages 9-16) does not appear on wrappers 24 and 25 (both 1840). Printed note on wrapper 376 (1890): “Die in Lieferung 21 und 24 gegebenen 2 Textbogen dieser Abtheilung bitten zu cassiren.” [please destroy the two Bogen given in Lieferung 21 and 24 of this Abtheilung]. So Lieferung “25” for pages 9-16 in Smith & England (1937: 95) probably a printing error, correct should be “24.”

Oostingh (1925: 324) and Johnson (1968: 366) similarly dated pages 9-16 from 1841. This section was replaced by the following after Küster’s death.

Woodward (1910: 1253), Oostingh (1925: 324), Prashad (1932: 4), Smith & England (1937: 95), and Johnson (1968: 366) all correctly attributed this to Küster; in contrast, Welter-Schultes (1999: 186) stated that this was by “Anonymous.” However, the title page to 8(1)[2] specifically states: “Begonnen von Dr. H. C. Küster, fortgeführt und beendet von S. Clessin,” thereby confirming that Küster authored the first part.

Sources: Woodward (1910: 1253); Smith & England (1937: 93); Johnson (1968: 366); Welter-Schultes (1999: 188-189). Two title pages, one with 1838 and the other with 1876 as the date of publication.

Welter-Schultes (1999: 189) noted that page 288 (errata sheet) is unpaginated. Plates 9, 13, 15, 20, and 21 were not mentioned in Smith & England (1937), different plates 2-4 were not considered. According to their similar design ("Küster ad nat. pinx." is quoted on the pls.), plates 9, 13, and 15 should have been issued in one single Lieferung (probably around 1850-1855), plates 20 and 21 ("F. Sturm del.") in another Lieferung. Plates 2-4 are not preserved in Göttingen, they were "replaced" by other plates 2[a]-4[a] a few years later. Plate 4[a] was issued in Lieferung 21, plate 2[a] in Lieferung 29, both dates according to notes on the wrappers, plate 3[a] must have been issued in one of the following Lieferungen. Lieferung "222" in Smith & England (1937) obviously a printing error, correct is 223 according to the wrapper.

Welter-Schultes (1999: 189) noted that plates 3, 4, 18* and 26 were not mentioned in Smith & England (1937). Plate 18* most probably was issued in Lieferung 127 according to its design which equals the one of plates 18-22. Plates 3, 4, and 26 must have been delivered together, the pressing design of those plates is similar to each other and different from all other plates in 9(2)(1). In the text, plates 3-4 are cited correctly on pages 19-28 (issued in 1848), plate 26 is also cited correctly. This leads to the conclusion that the three plates could have been issued approximately 1848-1855.

The text stops suddenly with the species on plate 43; the remaining plates were not referenced in the text. Plates 74-75 (of Chamberlainia hainesiana Lea) were not formally published, but exist in the MCZ copies. No register. Haas (1923), "Beiträge zu einer Monographie der asiatischen Unioniden," Abhandlungen der Senckenbergische Naturforschenden Gesellschaft 38(2): 129-203, completed this work and provided a collation of this volume.

Each Lieferungen contained one or more signatures, with a signature consisting of an eight-page fascicle. Sometimes the first page of a signature will have a date printed at the bottom, which may be earlier than the date printed on the wrapper of the Lieferungen. Bogan (2015) interpreted the signature dates to correspond to the publication dates. However, we believe that the individual signatures were not distributed to subscribers until the completion of each Lieferungen, so that the date on the wrapper should be taken as the actual publication date of the included signatures (see ICZN Code Arts. 8 and 21, Glossary definition of "publish").

Pages 40-41 (figure captions and index) unpaginated.

Coan (1984: 167) explained that this work had two title pages, both dated 1886, and differing in that one listed both Löbbecke and Kobelt as authors, and the second listed only Kobelt as an author. In the text, pages 1-16 used the terms “wir” and “unsere” (= we and our) up to page 16, while the remaining text used the term “ich” (= I). Hence, Coan concluded that Löbbecke and Kobelt should be credited as co-authors for the first part, and Kobelt alone for the second part. No new taxa were described in the first part (pages 1-16); the new taxa in the second part (pages 17-40) should be attributed simply to “Kobelt in Lobbecke & Kobelt, 1886.”

Welter-Schultes (1999: 191) stated that the text refers also to plates 2-6 of 10(2)(1). Plates “1-7” obviously a printing error in Smith & England (1937: 93), correct is “1, 7,” since plates 2-6 were already issued in 1841 by Küster.

Oostingh (1925: 346) and Prashad (1932: 5) stated that pages 1-26 were issued in 1868, while Smith & England (1937: 93) and Welter-Schultes (1999: 191) stated that pages 1-24 were issued in 1868, with the remaining text in 1869. The latter is probably correct, since 24 pages would correspond to 3 Bogen of 8 pages each.

Welter-Schultes (1999: 192) erroneously stated that there was “No title page with reference on publication year. Pencil note on title page: ‘von Dr. E. Römer in Cassel, 1871.’” In fact, the MCZ copy has a second title page with a date of 1871, and the authorship is specified on that title page as E. Römer, so that the Göttingen set must be missing that second title page.

Prashad (1932: 5) stated that: “Plates I-III were issued by Küster in 1841;” while Welter-Schultes (1999: 192) stated that: “The design of plates 1-3 suggests that they could have been issued shortly before 1870.”

Welter-Schultes (1999: 192) noted that: Smith & England (1937) did not mention the publication dates for the pages, and their data for plate 11 (Lieferung 35, 1842) most probably incorrect. Bogen 1 (pages 1-8) is mentioned on wrapper 31, Bogen 2 (pages 9-16) on wrapper 33. Printing error on wrapper 31: “XI.2. Taf. 3,” correct should be “XI.1. Taf. 3,” according to the species accounts. Printed note on wrapper 187 (1868): “Die in Lieferung 31 und 33 gegebenen 2 Bogen Text dieser Gattung bitten wir gefälligst zu cassiren.” [please destroy the two Bogen of this genus issued in Lieferung 31 and 33]. Printed note on wrapper 41: “Diesem Heft liegt Taf. 11 von Heft 35. bei.” [in this Lieferung, plate 11 of Lieferung 35 is enclosed]. We may conclude that plate 11 was not issued in Lieferung 35, but only in Lieferung 41.

Veneridae started by Küster, then replaced by the following.
